

Jeremy Harvey Bio

As a pianist, composer, arranger, and recording artist, Jeremy Harvey holds a Bachelor of Musical Arts degree in composition and piano performance from Brigham Young University-Idaho and his Master's in Computer Music Composition from the Peabody Conservatory of Music at The Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore, Maryland. Having played the piano since the age of two, he has worked hard to develop his skills and his life-long love of music. Jeremy has his own YouTube channel (pianomaniac14) that features his original compositions and arrangements in a variety of styles. His latest self-produced album, Wherever You Take Me, features music composed while at Peabody, including works that make use of digital audio manipulation and algorithmic compositional techniques. He also has several albums that he has released on Apple Music. He is also the recipient of the prestigious Judy Van Ostrem scholarship for the arts awarded by Lighthouse International, an organization dedicated to helping visually impaired individuals. From August 2015 to August 2016, Jeremy served as a Young Church Service Missionary for The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints with special responsibilities to share his faith through music and the spoken word. He particularly enjoyed interacting with the youth of the Church and performing throughout the US. Jeremy's passions include computer science, and commercial aviation. In spite of the difficulties of low vision and cerebral palsy, Jeremy's "life vision," centered on his faith, continues to enable him to conquer challenges and celebrate the good things in life.
